REPUBLIC BUILDING,
SPRINGFIELD, OHIO.

Telephone No. 229.

THURSDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 22, 1887.

The asylum for the insane at Toledo is to be heated with natural gas.

The Canton Repository is rather too much for the Canton Mayor's court.

The new "New Rock Island limited" out from Chicago—makes a mile a minute.

The Buffalo Express remarked, last week, that those republican clubs in New York were trumps.

The Congressional Record, of Findlay, O., as about to become a weekly, instead of a semi-monthly, journal.

We believe that the farmers of Clark county understand themselves and their business about as well as any other class of men.

Senator Sherman will make a slave of the president's message after the holidays —if enough is left of it by that time for him to work on.

And now it appears that Sullivan, the slugger, parts his robust name in the middle—i. e., J. Lawrence Sullivan. That shows what Boston "culchah" has done for him.

Ohio has five Lutheran colleges and seminaries, but Wittenberg is the greatest of them all, and the equal at least of any Lutheran college in the United States, and in some respects "more so."

The Columbus Dispatch says that John G. Whittier, the poet, is a democrat. Great Scott! Well, we would be glad if all democrats were like him. Mr. Martindell and Mr. Kildgely—by way of illustration.

The retirement of Eugene Higgins does not meet the public demand. Garland should go. And an administration under which such men as Higgins and Garland were possible, should also go—and it will go.

The country will be glad to hear what the Hon. Allen O. Myers will say about the Columbus tally-sheet forgery cases. Allen has a large mouth—when it is opened to its full capacity—and he has a very frank way of expressing himself, occasionally.

The Ohio State Journal thinks "Lamar is beaten for confirmation." He ought to be. The senate should certainly draw the line on such unrepentant rebels as Lamar.
The "Lost Cause" would be revived and in pretty robust condition with Lamar on the supreme bench.

We learn from the English and American Register, a handsome weekly newspaper, printed in the English language, the publication of which was commenced about the first of November, that the members of fifteen different Christian denominations are maintaining an "American Church" (undominational) in Berlin, with Rev.
Dr. J. H. W. Stuckenberg, formerly of Wittenberg college, as pastor. There is also a Ladies' Union maintained in connection with the church, of the executive committee of which Mrs. Stuckenberg, who will be remembered here as a very intellectual and charming woman, is the president, and Mrs. Mary B. Willard, a sister-in-law of Miss Frances E. Willard, of Chicago, is the vice-president. The "Union" gave a very delightful entertainment on the evening of Thanksgiving day—about 250 Americans and their friends being present. We quote from the Register as follows:

The room was filled with tables at each of which eight persons could be seated.
At a given signal, parties were formed and all were in their places at the tables, with happy faces eager to hear what Dr.
Stuckenberg would have to say in his "Address of Welcome."

As is usual, Prof. Stuckenberg said just enough and expressed the "Welcome" in his most earnest manner. His closing words, "American hearts, American homes, God bless them all," were echoed, if not audi-bly, in the hearts of all present.

The blessing was asked by Rev. Scott, and then came the supper, a bounteous fare with real American cooking; and judging from the happiness displayed in the faces, many wished to say "God bless the Ladies' Union."

The system displayed in the entire management showed that the president of the Union and her assistants worked in perfect union.

Dr. Stuckenberg has become quite famous as an author since he went to Europe —his "Life of Kant" having had a large sale among religious philosophers and thinkers.

The Ohio State Journal reasons well, ably and fairly, on the matter of sugar tariffs and bounties, but it is believed by those who know the most in the matter, that the further reduction of the sugar tariff would wipe out the American sugar industry entirely, which would mean not only that millions of American money invested in sugar plantations and factories would be destroyed, but that we should be at the mercy of foreign sugar producers who could put up their prices to any figure they chose to fix. The offering of a bounty would hardly help the matter because sugar planters would have no confidence in its continuance. If a bill were passed, authorizing the bounty, this year, nobody could be assured that it would not be abolished next year.

The New York Tribune calls attention to the strength which the Primrose league gave to the conservative cause in Great Britain, through the organization of the people, in little democratic assemblies and the utilization of their united influence. The lords and ladies fraternized with the men and women employed on their estates, and with their neighbors, in league meetings held in the great hall of their own castles, and in this way gave the liberals some instructive hints in the direction of the influencing and controlling of a government by the people. The Tribune suggests that the organizing of the republicans of this country into clubs will have the result of strengthening the republican party of America, and the Tribune is right.

Ex-Governor St. John has opened his mouth batteries upon the republican party already, preliminary to next year's battle.
This indicates that John Peter has made satisfactory terms with the democratic managers.—Ohio State Journal.

It also indicates that both St. John and the democrats are very much afraid that the republicans are going to win, next year —as they are.

The recent publication of a letter from Nathaniel Hawthorne, construed by some to show disloyalty to the Union cause in '62, has drawn an explanation and defense, with several additional letters from Hawthorne bearing on the subject, from a school and life friend of the novelist, Horatio Bridge. It will appear in the January Century.

In the forthcoming January Century, the starting fact will be revealed that the keystone of Lincoln's cabinet fell out on the eve of his inauguration. How, after that ceremony, Lincoln repaired the disaster will be told in the Century "Life," by his private secretaries, along with full details of the formation of the entire cabinet.

People who got mad at the afternoon papers for printing false and contradictory accounts of the Smith-Kilrain fight didn't know how heavily the ocean cable is loaded with uncertainty.—Cincinnati Telegram.

Exactly. The afternoon papers are forced to take their cable messages as they come. They have no means of going behind the returns.

The New York Tribune makes a very neat point, in the following: When Henry S. Ives took that $100,000 check for seven-eighths of himself as the Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad company, and it went to his credit as trustee, he did not at least rob the whole of Peter to pay Paul.

The Lutheran Evangelist, of this city, seems to be entering upon a career of prosperity. The paper has been greatly improved within the past year, and the process of improvement is to be continued.
Rev. A. B. McMackin, the managing editor, is a very energetic and accomplished journalist.

COUNTY COMMISSIONER.

A Worthy Gentleman Named for an Important Office.

To the Editor of the Republic: The canvass within the republican party as to who shall secure the nomination for the various county offices to be filled at our next annual election, has already, at this early day, been opened. All along the line we hear the question discussed as to whether this or that candidate would be a wise choice to make.

We have a list of candidates in the field who are at least confident of their ability to discharge creditably and honestly the duties of the office for which he is a candidate. And the public will recognize in each candidate who has been named, both ability and integrity; and it becomes not a question so much of the individual fitness of the candidate, as what is justice with reference to the claims of the different parts of the county. I desire, Mr. Editor, to speak with special reference to the selection of a candidate for county commissioner.

I believe there is one township in our county that has never been represented in the board of commissioners by one of her own citizens. Greene township has been represented by Mr. Stewart and Mr. Johnson, and when Mr. Kitchen came into the board, he came fresh from his Greene township home, and he was recognized as a representative from that section of the county.

Now, I believe Harmony township the most appropriate point for the location of our next commissioner. We have one in the city and one in the northwest part of the county, holding over—and Harmony now presents a candidate who is honest and capable, and who has a just appreciation of economy in public affairs. I refer to John Goodfellow.

Mr. Goodfellow is not a candidate of his own choice, but he is chosen forward by those seeking a suitable man for the place.
In making a selection of a man fitted for this position, we should not make any mistake, but select a thoroughly competent and especially "good fellow" for the position.

Harmony township is clearly entitled to the next commissioner, and we ask our fellow republicans to give to us the consideration we deserve at this time, and you will find us still unfaltering.
